Flooding Along Pin Oak Street

Who:

Bluffton Police Department

What:

Flooding and Standing Water

Where:

Pin Oak Street in Bluffton Park

When:

March 27, 2016

Currently an approximately 100-foot section of Pin Oak Street near 5th Avenue in Bluffton Park is impassable due to the heavy rains. Bluffton Police have barricades in place to prevent traffic from traveling through the area.

There are other areas in the Town of Bluffton that have standing water in roadways, so please use caution if you must drive through these areas. No other roads are impassable, but it's advised to limit driving and stay indoors for the remainder of the night.

According to the National Weather Service, the rain is expected to continue through the night with local flooding likely in low-lying and poor drainage areas. Tomorrow there is a 30% chance of isolated thunderstorms. By Monday evening, the rain is expected to taper off. Tuesday and Wednesday are expected to be dry and sunny.

The Bluffton Emergency Management Division is monitoring the weather very closely and will advise if any other roads become impassable.
